

LTC David Krueger Biography

LTC David Krueger is a Defense Trade Analyst and Senior Military Advisor at the Department of State's Directorate of Defense Trade Controls. He is an Army Strategy and Plans officer by training and has prior assignments with the Bureau of Conflict Stabilization Operations, the National Defense University, and the US Military Academy at West Point. He holds a PhD in American History from Harvard University, a MS in Project Management from Drexel University, and a BS in International and Strategic History from USMA.